Privacy Policy

Our Commitment to You

At Santoni's Marketplace & Catering, we are committed to protecting the privacy and security of the information you share with us. We collect identifying facts such as your name, address, email and telephone number in order to assure efficiency and quality service when you shop at our market. Because this personal data is your private information, we hold ourselves to the highest standard in its use and protection. We maintain strict policies and procedures to protect the confidentiality of your information for the duration of your relationship with us.

How We Protect Your Privacy

As stated above, your private information is secure because we do not sell or rent information about current or former customers or their accounts to third parties. Should your relationship with Santoni's Marketplace & Catering end, we will continue to restrict any access or foreclosure of your personal data. We will only release your personal data in order to comply with a legally permitted inquiry or in other legally limited circumstances. In addition, only those Santoni's employees who need to do so as part of their job responsibilities are authorized to have access to your information. Our employees are trained on the critical nature of privacy and information security and on their responsibility to protect the data you provide us.

Why We Collect Personal Data

Your personal data is used by us primarily to complete services we provide, and to advise you of additional products or promotions designed for your benefit. This would include, for example, mailings to alert you of special pricing/discounts, seasonal/holiday promotions, and new services or changes taking place at our market. Through use of the customer loyalty rewards card, we are able to determine trends and shopping preferences that enable us to offer our customers quality products at a better value.

We Always Keep You Informed

Our goal is to serve your shopping needs, instill confidence, and earn your trust through clear explanation of our policies. Should we modify or make any changes to our privacy guidelines, please be assured that we will inform you promptly.

Updating Information

In order to best serve you, it is important that we maintain complete and accurate information. If you ever find that our records contain inaccurate or incomplete information, please notify us immediately. We will quickly correct and complete any changes necessary to assure correct data.
